The Radio HF Internet Newsletter is distributed monthly, free of charge, to subscribers by e-mail. The Newsletter is a collection of web sites specifically related to radio (AM/FM, shortwave, Internet radio, amateur radio, scanning and CB), communications, telecommunications, radio memorabilia and collectibles, media, journalism, science, technology, space and astronomy, weather, transportation, plus some fun things thrown in for good measure! Each edition includes links to web sites submitted by subscribers or by the editor. All sites are reviewed, verified and presented to you, with the URL, and a brief description of each site.

The Newsletter arrives in your in-box as an easy to read e-mail as well as an attached PDF version, with no fear of viruses. The subscriber list is secure, private and confidential. It will never be sold, redistributed or displayed.

Subscribers are encouraged to submit web sites for inclusion in future editions of the Newsletter. All contributors whose sites are published will receive a 2% discount on their next purchase from Radio H.F. The e-mail address for all contributions, comments, and subscription requests is hfnewsletter@yahoo.com <mailto:hfnewsletter@yahoo.com>

Welcome to the November 2016 issue the Radio HF Newsletter. Happy Thanksgiving Day to our U.S. subscribers. Also, please remember veterans of all wars for their service and, in some cases, those who paid the ultimate price, on November 11th, Veterans Day in the U.S. and Remembrance Day here in Canada.

It's so hard to believe that we're closing in on the end of another year. We're moving towards winter quickly here in the north-east. We haven't seen any yet here in Montreal, but it's been popping up around us so it's best we prepare for what's coming. Believe it or not, we'll be seeing all those Christmas ads and commercials popping up.

Election Day in the U.S. is just a little under two weeks away. Tuesday, November 8 will be a most interesting day. It will be great to finally see an end to this very long and very aggressive campaign, whichever way it turns out.

Our Monthly Special Zone for November includes web pages on Aviation History Month, UN Special days for the International Day of Tolerance, World Television Day, and International Day for the Elimination of Violence against Women. We also feature Black Friday and Cyber Monday.

This month's virtual voyage around the world, in the "Where in the World Zone", takes us to the Horn of Africa to the east African nation of Somalia. The Federal Republic of Somalia is bordered by Ethiopia to the west, Djibouti to the northwest, the Gulf of Aden to the north, the Indian Ocean to the east, and Kenya to the southwest. Somalia has the longest coastline on Africa's mainland, and its terrain consists mainly of plateaus, plains and highlands. Somalia has a population of around 10.8 million.

Let's get into this month's collection of websites. Please share some of your favourite websites with us. I'd be happy to include them in a future edition of the Newsletter.

The ARRL Handbook for Radio Communications (2017)

94rd Edition

Edited by H. Ward Silver N0AX et al.

1280 Pages – including CD Rom

ISBN: 978-1-62595-063-5 Hardcover

ISBN: 978-62595-062-8 Softcover

Hardcover $59.95 U.S. or $77.95 Canadian

Softcover $49.95 U.S or $66.95 Canadian

ARRL Order # 0635 Hardcover

ARRL Order # 0628 Softcover

If it's November, you know it's time for me to give everybody a look at the one gift that every ham radio operator wants to get this Holiday Season. I just have to say "The Handbook". No further identification is necessary in the amateur radio world. If there is a question or concern had by any ham, you would be hard pressed to look further than this book for the answer.

Our hobby has grown and changed in so many ways over the years. It has been the The ARRL Handbook that has guided us into a clear understanding of new radio technologies and how hams can best make use of them. This latest edition is no exception. New areas of interest include a RTL-SDR Project that introduced hams to this significant advancement in receiver design. Another project familiarizes folks with the Raspberry Pi single board computer system and how it can be configured into a Network Client/ Server that will control Antenna Rotators. New thinking in the areas of how to measure Crystal Parameters and optimum placement of Filter Stubs point to how The Handbook stays on top of the latest advancements in theory and design. And speaking of being up to date. This edition brings us the best current information about Solar Cycle 24 and what we are likely to see going forward as the sun changes its tune. Recent years have always included a CD-ROM that contains the full text of the book. This edition includes a significant amount of supplemental content. Additional articles, software, PC board templates and other files that support the text and its projects really add value to an already infinitely useful resource.

So make sure you start dropping hints to your family and friends now so you don't miss out on this latest edition of The Handbook. Or just skip all that and buy it for yourself. It's worth every penny.

Available in the US from the American Radio Relay League and in Canada from Radio HF

We like to see Downdetector as the weatherman for the digital world: we detect when technology fails. Just like the weather, service interruptions and outages can't be predicted, and just like a weatherman, we can tell you what is going on. More concretely, Downdetector offers a realtime overview of status information and outages for all kinds of services. We aim to track any service that its users consider vital to their everyday lives, including (but not limited to) internet providers, mobile providers, airlines, public transport and online services.

RADIO H.F. PUBLICITY ZONE #3

What is new in books & publications from the American Radio Relay League, the Radio Society of Great Britain, and other publishers?

High Speed Multimedia for Amateur Radio

By Glen Popiel, KW5GP

Using commercial off-the-shelf equipment and developing their own software, groups of hams have created high speed wireless Amateur Radio digital networks with wide area coverage. The possible uses for these high speed data networks in the Amateur Radio community are endless. Virtually any service that works on the regular Internet can be adapted to an Amateur Radio high speed multimedia (HSMM) network, including video conferencing, instant messaging, voice over Internet protocol (VoIP), network sensors and cameras, remote station control, and many other services. With the capability to send real-time video and data files, the public service and disaster support aspects of Amateur Radio are expanded tremendously. This book introduces HSMM networking, explains the basics of how it works, and describes the various technologies in use today. Later chapters explain in detail how to deploy your own HSMM network, along with various applications to put it to work. Well illustrated step-by-step instructions will guide you through the process of installing and configuring software needed to get your HSMM network up and running.
